

Mohawk Golf Club's New Home Opened

Fine New Building Is Turned Over by the Committee That Has Had Construction in Charge—Historical Sketch of the Club.

The history of golf in Schenectady goes back a period of twelve years, when the Schenectady Golf club was organized, with S. Dana Greene as president. There were less than fifty men and women in Schenectady, who were at all interested in the game. The first golf was played in that city on the pasture of the Old Paige farm at the upper end of Nott street, near the present hospital. The crows were still in the lot the first Saturday the members of the new club played. There was a course of nine holes.

The new club house was delayed until the following May. During the season of 1902 the members utilized the temporary quarters and played over the course. The latter part of May of the same year the old farm house was moved back and the work of remodeling it into a club house was started. It was hoped to have the new home open that fall but delays held back the opening day until early in the summer of 1903.

Under the personal direction of the late S. M. Hamill, then president of the club, great care was exercised in laying out the course. During the winter of 1903 a topographical map was prepared at considerable expense, and donated by the Schenectady Railway company. This map was studied

Take courage! Though a mere pain-racked shell of your old-time self, there is hope for you in Bishop's Am-or-ou, the true friend that man or woman ever had and offered to them.

Don't put off beginning; take your first step toward health today. Cling to Bishop's Am-or-ou, the only true constructive tonic ever offered to the people of America and Europe.

From thousands of unsolicited testimony, kindly read the following extracts taken at random:

T. A. McKune, Union Mills, N. C., writes: Sample of AM-OR-OU was sent me in tablet form, and I was surprised to find it was so good.

I believe AM-OR-OU is a good medicine and did everything that you said it would do. I paid for it $1.00 for another bottle. Please rush.

G. P. Howell, Portersville, N. J., writes: Sample of AM-OR-OU was the best medicine I have found for its purpose and it did the work.

A generous free sample of Bishop's AM-OR-OU in tablet form will be sent, postage prepaid, to anyone writing to the manufacturers.

EASY TO CURE CATARRH

Just Breathe in Hyomei, The Dry Air That Kills The Germs.

You can do exactly what G. J. Sterens did by using Hyomei. Read this: "After having suffered from chronic catarrh for years, for which I tried various remedies without success, I became almost discouraged. After reading about Hyomei, I decided to make one more effort to rid myself of this dread disease, and to my great delight I found the use of two bottles of the Inhalant sufficient to produce a complete cure. I now take pleasure in recommending this remedy to all sufferers from catarrh."—G. J. Sterens, Crown City, Ohio.

We don't simply say Hyomei will cure catarrh, but we say that R. J. Lindsay the druggist guarantees it to cure catarrh, or money back. He does more—he guarantees it to cure asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, cough and colds. A complete Hyomei outfit, including inhaler, costs only $1.00, and extra bottles, if you afterwards need one, will cost but 50 cents. Hyomei is a pleasant dry air treatment. You just breathe it in, and as it passes over the inflamed membrane, it kills the germs of catarrh, and allays all inflammation.

LITTLE FALLS DAIRY MARKET.

Little Falls, May 26.—Trade in cheese was very animated yesterday, although buyers represent the condition as being very poor, with trouble to dispose of the fodder stock, doubtless due to some extent to the near approach of the superior grass stock. Cows are now getting excellent feed in pastures and feed increasing in favor of milk. Some grass cheese will be offered here next week and the following week the offerings will be nearly all grass stock. The sales were 3,714 boxes at 10 1/4c.

The Congregational Ministers' Association of Minneapolis asked of the local Central Labor body the privilege of paying dues the same as other affiliated organizations. The offer was declined.

The members had no club house, and each kept his paraphernalia at home. Soon after the organization of the Schenectady Golf club, a second organization was formed under the title of the College Hill Golf club, which played on the college pasture. During the season of 1897 and part of '98 the clubs joined hands and played golf together on the Paige farm.

Incorporation Effectuated.

The Mohawk Golf club was formally incorporated on October 31, 1898. The papers of incorporation were signed by the following members: E. W. Rice, Jr., J. R. Lovejoy, Hinsdell Parsons, Allan H. Jackson, James A. Van Vleet, Frederic C. Whitmore, S. Dana Greene, H. F. T. Erben and H. C. Levis. Soon after the club was organized a lease was taken of the Paige farm for a term of years, and the plans for a small club house were approved. This club house, a small one-story building, was built the same fall, and in now occupied by the Edison club. A new nine-hole course was laid out and tennis courts built. From time to time during the next few years the club house was enlarged as necessity demanded.

From the day of its incorporation the Mohawk Golf club has been very prosperous. The membership reached a total of 153 the first year, with a long waiting list. The first lease was for only two years, with three yearly renewals, but after the addition of a large locker room a new lease was taken out for five additional yearly renewals. This lease runs out this year.

Plenty of Enthusiasm.

It was an organization of an enthusiastic body of golfers and the links saw many a hotly contested team match and more than one interesting tournament.

In four years the club had outgrown its quarters; the nine-hole course was not big enough to accommodate the players and the club house was too small. In 1900 the members began to think of a new building and a larger plot. The members wanted an 18-hole course and a permanent home.

In October, 1901, the club purchased the Ellis farm of 119 acres on the Troy Road, also 19 acres of the Van Vranken farm and a small piece from the Whitebeck estate.

New Club House Planned.

That fall the members began to plan for a new club house and to plot out the ground. Roads and bridges were built. The course was plowed up and work started to lay out the 18-hole course. Temporary quarters were erected, but the work of building the new club house was delayed until the following May.

During the season of 1902 the members utilized the temporary quarters and played over the course. The latter part of May of the same year the old farm house was moved back and the work of remodeling it into a club house was started. It was hoped to have the new home open that fall but delays held back the opening day until early in the summer of 1903.

Under the personal direction of the late S. M. Hamill, then president of the club, great care was exercised in laying out the course. During the winter of 1903 a topographical map was prepared at considerable expense, and donated by the Schenectady Railway company. This map was studied

The long entrance hall extends through the center of the building and opens on the dining veranda on the north; this hall opens into a large ball room which extends through the second floor, with a balcony on the side and a musicians' gallery at the end. On the right of this hall is the main staircase leading to the upper floor, and farther on, at the left, is the general assembly room, and to the right of the dining room. To the right of the dining room is the private dining room, and in the rear of this room is the cafe, next to which is the men's room.

Eight Guests' Rooms.

The second floor has eight guests' rooms, a card room, billiard room and three bath rooms on the north end of the building. At the end of the building are the servants' quarters.

In the basement are located the storage rooms, boiler rooms, women's lockers and men's lockers, wine rooms, drying rooms and the bowling alleys, of which there are four.

The interior finish is decorative and beautiful in its simplicity and quiet tones. The floors are of hard wood. The woodwork of the ballroom is finished in white, with gray stippled walls. The wide halls are finished in white and yellow. The general room is finished in weathered oak. The walls are covered with yellow burlap. The dining room is finished in green. The men's room in weathered oak and the walls hung with fine prints of golfing events and club history. The women's room, to the right of the main entrance, is finished in white and blue.

The furniture is mostly of the substantial mission type, upholstered in dark leather. The club trophies are placed about the various rooms for ornamental purposes.

Officers of the Club.

The first president of the Mohawk Golf club was E. W. Rice, Jr., who served in that capacity in 1899, 1900 and 1901. The late S. M. Hamill was president from 1902 up to and including 1906. J. R. Lovejoy, the present president, was elected in 1906, to succeed Mr. Hamill.

The building committee in charge of the construction of the new club house is as follows: E. P. Edwards, chairman; W. T. Hanson, Jr., A. H. Jackson, A. W. Jones. Other officers are: Willis T. Hanson, vice president; E. G. Waters, secretary; T. A. McLoughlin, treasurer. Board of governors, 1909: A. G. Davis, W. T. Hanson, J. W. Smitley; 1910: C. G. Briggs, E. W.
