

"Hell no, Sergio!"

We said it once.

"Hell no, Sergio!"

We'll say it again.

"Hell no, Sergio!"

Hey, that could be a good strike slogan!

No to two tier. No to three, four many tiers for Mopar, axle, temporary workers, new hires...this must stop! Wage parity now!

No to AWS. No to the new attendance/tardy procedure. No to a questionable healthcare co-op with no guarantee that our benefits won't be changed. No to trades consolidation. No to raises that don't keep up with inflation, COLA eliminated and bonuses that we might or might not get. No to freezing pensions four more years.

No to moving work around and cutting jobs. If we lose car production we lose jobs, plain and simple. This musical chairs game they are talking about involves retooling to be even more productive so that fewer workers will be needed for the next generation of vehicles. Our job and income security language was gutted in 2007 and 2009. Put it in writing: our jobs stay. And no to more super-exploitation of workers in Mexico—or elsewhere. That's another tier.

If we don't get justice we will keep voting no! We aren't being stirred up by outsiders. We are intelligent workers and we are more than ready to walk the picket for a just contract.

Let's come together and talk about the next steps
