SUPPORT SOMEONE

Saturday

Maybe you're gifted in the arts, entertainment, sports, or something unconventional, but you aren't sure how a Christian fits into that world. Model Amy Joob wants you to know that if God gave you talents, He has a place for you to use them for His glory.

In her quest to become a model, Amy met with disapproval as well-meaning people told her she couldn't possibly be a Christian and work in such an environment. But Amy felt God calling her to be a pioneer, to blaze a trail for others as she carried His light into a dark and hurting world.

For each step of her journey, God illuminated the path and opened doors that were greater than she could have imagined. With every chapter, she testifies to the power and purpose of God in her life.

Amy is embracing this step in her journey as the host of the Support Someone Saturday, a podcast she launched in June 2020. Each episode of Support Someone Saturday highlights charities both across the U.S. and around the world. Amy interviews founders and directors of organizations like Habitat for Humanity, Team World Vision, the MAGIC Foundation and many more. Her mission is clear. Amy seeks to inspire her audience to become a catalyst for change in their communities both locally and globally.

Support Someone Saturday video podcast airs the 1st & 3rd Saturdays of the month at 9 AM CST on Apple, Spotify, Amy's YouTube, Facebook and Instagram

Signature Talks

● YOUR STORY FOR GOD'S GLORY

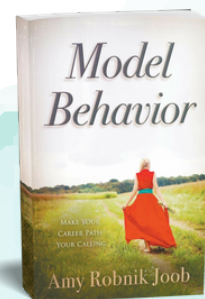

God will take your deepest pain and use it to birth your greatest purpose. Amy will share how Jesus will meet you in your pain, lead you to the next right step and show you His perspective on your story. Amy shares candidly how she has overcome challenges like an abrupt career change, alcohol addiction and her son's diagnosis with a rare genetic disorder. As you embrace the healing process, God will bring beauty from your ashes, give you a fresh vision for your life and use your story for His glory!

● MAKE YOUR CAREER PATH YOUR CALLING

Are you fulfilled in your work? Do you feel like there is something more? Amy will encourage you to partner with God in your career and if you don't see a clearly marked path, together with God's help, you can blaze a whole new trail. Amy will share stories from her book Model Behavior on how God called her into the modeling industry and how He prepared, provided and protected her along the way. She will give you practical tips for bringing God's love into your workplace no matter what industry or profession you are in. God has some exciting assignments ahead for you. Amy likes to say, "Bring it on God, let the adventure begin!"

● 40-DAY PRAYER CHALLENGE

What can God do in and through your life if you intentionally commit the next 40 days to prayer? Amy believes God will awaken you, give you clear strategies, build your faith, and infuse you with compassion and boldness as you make time for intentional prayer. Amy's new book is titled, Unstuck: Step Into the New and she will share with you principals and personal stories to inspire you to take the next right step. Amy believes God has a unique path for each one of us and as we pray and listen, He will show us the next right step to fulfill our destiny and purpose in Him.
