

Quick Start

HOW TO USE YOUR REDKEY

Just a friendly reminder: Don't forget to back up any important data you actually want to keep before wiping everything. Once it's gone, it's gone forever!

FOR LAPTOP, DESKTOP PCs

- Insert the Redkey into a spare USB port
- Power on the computer
- Press the Boot Menu key repeatedly
(usually [f12], [esc], or whatever key works)
- Select the USB from the boot menu
- Follow the on-screen instructions

FOR APPLE COMPUTERS

- Insert the Redkey into a spare USB port
- Power on the computer
- At the Chime sound, hold down the [Option] key
- Select 'EFI Boot' from the options
- Follow the on-screen instructions

FOR DELL PCs WITH NVMe

Enable AHCI Mode within the BIOS Setup menu

- Power on your computer. Press the BIOS key repeatedly (usually [del], [f2], or whatever key works)
- Locate the 'SATA operation' menu
- Select 'AHCI Mode' (the wording may vary)
- Apply the changes and exit the BIOS
- Follow the regular PC wiping process above
- Revert the settings after the wipe

FOR APPLE PCs WITH T2 CHIP

Access Startup Security Utility

- Power on the computer. After the Apple logo appears...
- Press the [Command] & [R] keys at the same time
- In the 'Utilities' menu, select the 'Startup Security Utility'
- For Secure boot: Select 'No Security'
- For External Boot: Select 'Allow'
- Back out and restart the computer
- Follow the Apple process above
- Revert the settings after the wipe
