King of Glory, King of Peace (t. Gwalchmai)

- 1     King of Glory, King of Peace,
      I will love thee;
      And that love may never cease
      I will move thee.
      Thou hast granted my request,
      Thou hast heard me;
      Thou didst note my working breast,
      Thou hast spared me.

- 2     Wherefore with my utmost art
      I will sing thee,
      And the cream of all my heart
      I will bring thee.
      Though my sins against me cried,
      Thou didst clear me;
      And alone, when they replied,
      Thou didst hear me.

- 3     Seven whole days, not one in seven,
      I will praise thee;
      In my heart, though not in heaven,
      I can raise thee.
      Small it is, in this poor sort
      To enrol thee:
      E'en eternity's too short
      To extol thee.

George Herbert (1593-1633)

Teach me, my God and King (t. Sandys)

- 1     Teach me, my God and King,
      In all things thee to see,
      And what I do in anything,
      To do it as for thee.
- 2     A man that looks on glass
      On it may stay his eye;
      Or if he pleaseth, through it pass,
      And then the heaven espy.
- 3     All may of thee partake:
      Nothing can be so mean,
      Which with this tincture, 'For thy sake'
      Will not grow bright and clean.
- 4     A servant with this clause
      Makes drudgery divine;
      Who sweeps a room, as for thy laws,
      Makes that and the action fine.
- 5     This is the famous stone
      That turneth all to gold;
      For that which God doth touch and own
      Cannot for less be told.

George Herbert (1593-1633)
