Tuition: $25 (register at: <https://www.scopeofpain.org/core-curriculum/live-conferences/>)

Who is this for? Physicians, nurse practitioners, registered nurses, physician assistants, nurses, dentists, pharmacists, and allied health professionals whose practices manage acute and chronic pain.

SCOPE of Pain Tennessee is provided by Boston University School of Medicine, with local partner East Tennessee State University Quillen College of Medicine. National collaborators include the Council of Medical Specialty Societies and the Federation of State Medical Boards.

What is this training about? SCOPE of Pain is a continuing medical education/continuing nursing education activity designed to help you safely and effectively manage patients with acute and/or chronic pain, when appropriate, with opioid analgesics. Through the case of Kathy James, a 32-year-old who has a displaced right femoral neck fracture due to a motor vehicle crash, you'll learn how to:

1. Optimize safety when prescribing opioids for acute pain
2. Determine when opioid analgesics are indicated for chronic pain
3. Assess pain and prescription opioid misuse risk
4. Educate patients about opioid risks and realistic benefits
5. Monitor patients on opioid therapy for benefits and harms
6. Assess and manage worrisome opioid-taking behaviors
7. Safely taper long-term opioid therapy
