SPEAK
CORNISH WEEK

Welcome! / Dynnargh!

Welcome to Speak Cornish Week 2021! Run by An Rosweyth, the network of Cornish language voluntary organisations, under our Speak Cornish banner, Speak Cornish Week is one of the biggest Cornish language events in the calendar. You'll see events in the programme here from An Rosweyth groups and from other organisations involved in promoting and teaching the Cornish language. It's open to all, from those who have never uttered a word of Cornish before, to current learners and fluent speakers. The aim is to get everyone using some Cornish and to make the language heard online and in towns, villages, shops and pubs across Cornwall.

This programme offers a range of events in person and online for people of all ages to get involved. It also showcases some of the brilliant work currently happening to help everyone to speak Cornish. There may be further events added to the programme so do keep an eye on our website (speakcornish.com) and our social media channels for updates.

Our theme this year is 'meur ras' (thank you). As we emerge from a tough year for all we thought it was appropriate to help people express what they are thankful for right now, be that the NHS, their family and friends, or Cornwall!

If you cannot join us at any of the events below, you may still like to take part via our social media channels by posting messages, videos, photos, memes (whatever you come up with) around the theme 'meur ras'. We'll be on these accounts and using the hashtags #speakcornish and #meurras:

@speakcornish1 on Facebook and Twitter

@speakcornish on Instagram and Tik Tok

PK Porthcurno Embrace Cornish

PK Porthcurno, the museum of global communications, are embracing the Cornish language during Speak Cornish Week. Staff will take part in training provided by An Kylgh Kernewek in basic Cornish phrases, which they hope to use with visitors to the museum throughout the week. A new visual presentation of the museum, created by a Cornish-speaking member of staff, will be published with a Cornish voice-over. Visit their Facebook page for more details: facebook.com/PKPorthcurno.

Find out more about the museum at pkporthcurno.com. Don't forget to visit the PK Porthcurno stall at Mazey Day in Penzance to try out your Morse code skills in Cornish!

Kresen Kernow's Mes a'n Kemmyn / Out of the Ordinary Exhibition Opens to the Public

Mes a'n
Kemmyn
Out of the Ordinary

22 June – 25 September / 22 mis Metheven – 25 mis Gwynngala

This summer, Kresen Kernow hosts a very special temporary exhibition as four historic Cornish language play scripts return to Cornwall for the first time in centuries. The exhibition will unite The Cornish Ordinalia and The Creation of the World (on loan from the Bodleian Libraries at the University of Oxford) with The Life of St Meriadoc/Bewnans Meriasek and The Life of St Kea/Bewnans Ke (on loan from the National Library of Wales in Aberystwyth) under one roof for the first time in history. The manuscripts form a very significant part of Cornwall's written and language heritage, as well as providing glimpses of a distinct theatrical tradition which took place here centuries ago.

Inspired by the exhibition, Kresen Kernow is hosting a summer of celebratory events and activities, including online talks, a symposium, school projects, creative workshops, performances and summer holiday family learning events, including through partnerships with Hall for Cornwall and Shallal dance theatre.

It is essential to book for the exhibition and other activities. Find out more at kresenkernow.org.

Golden Tree Productions Launch Go Cornish for Primary Schools

Golden Tree Productions are inviting primary schools across Cornwall to Go Cornish! Commissioned by Cornwall Council, the Go Cornish for Primary Schools programme aims to give every child growing up in Cornwall the opportunity to learn something of the Cornish language, and to discover the culturally rich heritage of our amazing patch of the planet.

Go Cornish will be available for free, providing teachers with a bank of cross curricula learning resources, a clear framework of delivery, and language support along the way. The programme requires little time commitment or admin and is available at three award levels (Bronze, Silver and Gold), with teachers not needing to speak Cornish themselves at entry level. Above all, Golden Tree hopes to raise awareness of the language and to inspire teachers, young people and their families to have fun with Cornish both inside and outside the classroom.

To find out more about Go Cornish for Primary Schools and the other Cornish language tools available for learners of all ages, go to: gocornish.org. Having signed up their schools for Go Cornish, teachers will be invited to a Welcome CPD Session to unpack the programme in full. They will then be given access to the Go Cornish Portal, which is packed full of professionally designed PowerPoints, fantastic lesson plans, phrasebooks and Cornish language games and activities. Pupils play an important role in the programme through the 'Kryw Kernewek' (Cornish Crew). This is light touch at the Bronze level but grows with the schools as they progress through the awards.

Will Coleman, Artistic Director of Golden Tree Productions said: 'Gwren ni dalleth omLOWenhe gans Kernewek!' (Let's start having fun with Cornish"!).

S4C's Antur Cyw App Now Available in Cornish

The App provides children with space to play, learn and have fun in a variety of entertaining and educational activities. In the Cyw Adventure Park, you can fish to complete words at the fair, count on the farm, get on the spelling train, compose music, colour and more.

The Antur Cyw App is available for free on Apple, Android and Amazon platforms and you can choose which language you would like to use after downloading.

If Speak Cornish Week has started you on a Cornish language learning journey that you would like to continue, lessons, online and in person across Cornwall, will start in September. Please email Gemma at rosweyth@outlook.com for more information.
